

HOW DO I CHOOSE MY SUPER FUND?

AUSTRALIAN FOOD SUPER TICKS ALL THE BOXES

Take a look below at some things to consider when choosing the right super fund for you. Does the super fund have:

- V Low fees
- Solid, long term investment returns
- An understanding of the food industry
- Income protection for members
- ▼ Flexible Life and TPD insurance cover
- Service representatives that visit your worksite regularly to help answer your questions
- Education, information and tools to assist you
- ✓ Access to licensed financial advisers
- An online account service
- The opportunity to stay in the fund if you leave your current employer
- A pension option at retirement

WHAT NEXT?

- Make a choice. Australian Food Super has included a simple checklist overleaf to help you consider the right fund for you.
- Join a fund! You will need to speak with your HR or payroll staff to find out how they sign you up to a super fund. You can also complete a choice of fund form. Or if you're not yet an Australian Food Super member you can join online at https://www.ausfoodsuper.com.au/join-australian-foodsuper/
- Rollover any other super you have elsewhere into your choice of super fund. The more super funds you have, the more fees you are paying. You do, though, need to consider any insurance cover you may have with these funds which may be canceled.
- Carefully consider your insurance cover with any fund you join. In the food industry, it is even more important to make sure you have the right insurance cover, including life, total and permanent disablement and income protection cover. Australian Food Super provides eligible members with cover for all three types of insurance.

To make an informed choice about your super, it is recommended that you compare several different funds and consider which one is appropriate to your objectives, financial situation and needs. You may wish to speak to a financial adviser.
